Nujel'm is located on a remote island off the coast of Vesper. In virtually every way, however, they are primarily a Britannian city. This is a hot place: bathing suits, shorts, pastel colors and filmy fabrics, nothing heavy. An exotic flowing look. Although its level of technology is high, it exists as a place to get away from it all.

Nujel'm is built of gleaming white and orange sandstone, of black and white marble, and is full of arches, sweeping buttresses, narrow and crowded bazaars full of cloth-draped stalls filled
